Larne Native Keith Semple front man for 7th heaven announce that they are opening for Kid Rock & BonJovi to Land it's Biggest Gig Yet! 7th Heaven's entire purpose is to entertain their crowds and play high-intensity, jam-packed shows with their sweet melodies and strong harmonic sounds. 7th Heaven is no stranger to catering to big crowds with over 250 shows a year including over 80 big festivals throughout the year. Their high demand gives them wide experience playing live shows together since the band's formation 4 years ago. That's why it is no surprise that 7th Heaven were winners of the contest that will now have them opening for one of rock's biggest acts – Bon Jovi – at Chicago's biggest venue – Soldier Field – on July 30th!

7th Heaven's music is fresh, hearty and fun. The current single "Better This Way" continues to be added to radio stations around the country. Their songs are written about love and good times and their catchy lyrics make any of their tracks an instant sing-a-long at their performances. Whether it is throwing guitar picks in the crowd, the warm banter on stage, or the way they get their audience involved, 7th Heaven is a definite crowd pleaser.

After their lead singer, Keith Semple, won "Pop Stars" which is the UK's version of "American Idol", 7th Heaven found Semple on MySpace and invited him to join the band. Keith accepted and moved from Larne in Northern Ireland to the United States to round out the elevated energy of 7th Heaven.

7th Heaven is filming a pilot for a documentary on their crazy lives during there summer tour and will be pitched to a network late 2010. With all of the opportunities they are both creating and earning, there is no surprise that listening to 7th Heaven is "Better This Way".
